

Medical Assistance in Dying

Group members: Drs. Janice Chisholm, Leisha Hawker, Blaine Kent, David Martell, Ashley Miller, Anna Neumann

Action Challenge:

Nova Scotians have had inequitable access to medical assistance in dying (MAiD) since its legalization in 2016. The greatest barrier has been identified as the lack of a sustainable, comprehensive model of care that would support current and potential MAiD assessors and providers in providing timely and compassionate MAiD services.
